

AQUAMANTRA® PREMIUM BOTTLED WATER CONTINUES TO REIGN AS “MOST INSPIRATIONAL WATER” BRINGING POSITIVE THOUGHT DURING NEGATIVE ECONOMIC TIMES

DANA POINT, CA – March 5, 2009. AQUAMANTRA®, producer of premium award winning natural spring water continues to live up to the title it received as MOST INSPIRATIONAL WATER from SHAPE MAGAZINE. The brand is attracting superstars from The New York Times Best Sellers list like Jack Canfield, co-author of the multi-billion dollar franchise “CHICKEN SOUP FOR THE SOUL®” and Eric Schnell and Steven Kessler founders of The Healthy Beverage Company and the top U.S. selling organic and fair trade beverage brand, STEAZ® to its notable Board of Advisors.

“AQUAMANTRA continues to strive for positive solutions in a world desperately in need of hope. I take this job very seriously and continue to pursue whatever I can do to help make the planet a healthier place” says Alexandra Teklak, Founder and President of AQUAMANTRA, who was recently featured as a “Conscious Capitalist” on the front page of the business section of the Orange County Register. “We’re not just selling water, we’re selling inspiration and solutions to help better the planet. That’s why we are launching the world’s first 100% biodegradable and recyclable bottle,” said Teklak.

Jack Canfield has a knack for being at the forefront of exciting cultural shifts and is a leading advisor for AQUAMANTRA. “We are on the horizon of great change in this country. The way we engage with products is shifting from the traditional one-dimensional idea of buy-consume to a construct which embraces the idea that a purchase is actually a vote for a particular way of conducting business. More and more consumers are realizing that they can change the world simply by consciously choosing products which are created by companies who desire to enrich the lives of others,” said Canfield.

Alexandra reached out to Steven and I to be strategic advisors for AQUAMANTRA we were delighted at the idea of being part of a brand designed to enrich the world through positive thought. AQUAMANTRA truly is a new reality in water with an inspirational point-of-view and biodegradable technology which aligns with our own core values,” said Schnell.

doom and gloom. Because of very real situations that face our planet, it has become the short term view in our country to focus constantly on what’s wrong with our society.

What’s wrong with our bodies, what’s wrong with our health, what’s wrong with our finances, and, of course, what’s wrong with our government.

People need to remember that “thoughts are things” and that whatever they focus on expands and gains strength. So even if takes more work to look for the 'positive, feel-good stuff' it's well worth the effort. I suggest people nourish their desires in the fertile ground of gratitude, which incidentally is one of the reasons AQUAMANTRA created I AM GRATEFUL™. If only one person finds something that is going well for their finances, their economy, their government, their country, and themselves they create a flow of abundance and healing energy to the entire system," said Foster.

"AQUAMANTRA is that "feel-good" product for consumers. Our inspirational mantras keep people focused on the positive, with every sip. We have four inspiration flavors which are distributed nationally via the internet and regionally on the West Coast in Whole Foods ( CA, NV, AZ, HI) Albertsons (AZ, NM, TX, CO) and hundreds of organic specialty markets on the West Coast."

About Aquamantra:

AQUAMANTRA is the first water to offer consumers a premium hydrating beverage in a 100% biodegradable-recyclable bottle and an experience that enlivens, enriches and deepens the consumers' relationship with themselves and the world around them. AQUAMANTRA's rigorous testing practices and purification standards exceed those of most bottled and municipal waters, making it valuable for those who wish to maintain optimum health, specifically people who are challenged with immune difficulties. The source of AQUAMANTRA's exquisite taste is San Diego's Palomar Mountain, known for its abundant springs, rich silica levels and perfectly balanced pH of 7.4. This bottled water is both IBWA and NSF inspected, then tested daily, weekly and annually showing no evidence of arsenic, bacteria, lead or chemicals. Consistent out source testing of AQUAMANTRA also shows no leaching from their PET Level 1 food grade plastic bottles. In 2007, the prestigious Berkeley Springs International Water Tasting competition awarded AQUAMANTRA with 'The Best Tasting Bottled Water Gold Medal' for it's delicious and clean tenor. AQUAMANTRA is available in Whole Foods, online at AQUAMANTRA.com and other fine purveyors of foods and optimum nutritional products. AQUAMANTRA invites you to visit us at www.aquamantra.com to learn more about our products, affirmations, quantum physics, our charities, the law of attraction and more.
